

Dear Faith Family,

Have you ever noticed that every time Jesus gathered with a small group, others showed up wanting to hear the good news? People were drawn to something they couldn't quite name—hope, healing, belonging, love. That's what's happening here at Saint Paul's @ The Farm. People are coming for a reason, and we need to honor and respect that reason.

This week at our Consistory meeting, I heard a sentiment I hear occasionally: "I love how we have grown; however, I never want to lose the intimate feeling we have here." My response was what I have always felt: "Neither do I."

My desire has never been to grow a bigger church for the sake of being bigger. My desire is to stay out of the way of the Holy and offer a table to all those seeking a place to gather—a hospital for those hurting and needing sacred space for spiritual care and healing, a space of safe fellowship for all God's children. Not just the ones any of us believe deserve it, because we all deserve it, because we believe it's what Jesus freely offered and taught us to offer.

Here's what I'm learning: growth does not have to mean we lose intimacy. But that's not up to just me—that's up to us all.

Intimacy is how we welcome and get to know one another. It's calling each other by name, showing up and listening, gathering together and not becoming complacent with only those we already know. A growing church keeps intimacy by intentionally creating smaller community hubs—our Bible and book studies, choirs, Friends Who Breakfast, Word Wine & Wisdom, Family Nights. It's maintained through radical transparency and vulnerability, face-to-face connection, shared prayer and honest God moments (take a lesson from some of our smallest members here if you aren't sure how to do that). It's fostered when people feel seen, known, and truly cared for—not just like attendees.

Here's my invitation to you in order to keep that intimate feeling: Meet new people. Welcome those who may be strangers to you. Let your conversations be more than a quick hello. Try "I'm glad you're here," or "How are you today?" or "Are you new here, or am I?" or simply, "Would you like to sit with me?" And listen, truly listen to one another.

Keeping that intimate feeling isn't rocket science. It's about welcoming every person the Holy leads to our doors. It's about listening, true connection, and loving people right where they are.

So don't stop showing up—for worship, events, and gatherings. Don't be afraid to speak to someone, listen and share stories, discover connections. Don't just always slip in the side door, attend or participate in your thing and slip out, learn someone's name. I used to be bad at names too, and sometimes still am, but the Holy offers grace and continues to work on me. Come in and be prepared for the Holy to use you too.

Want an intimate, safe, sacred space where all God's children are welcome? You too need to offer that same love and care that brought you here and let the Holy be concerned about how we grow.

Unspoken Requests

Updates to our Prayer List are made by calling the church office, filling out a prayer request card located in our sanctuary, or by posting on our prayers and love FB page.

I pray that people continue to find safe, sacred, loving, intimate space every time they walk through these doors. I also pray it for every church. But to do that means we all have to find our way to create that space with each person coming through our doors. Will you continue to walk with me on this journey? Show up, just be and allow others to be, welcome and love one another right where they are.

For I believe, as long as we continue to act as Jesus taught, welcoming every person, serving every neighbor, loving people right where they are, I believe the Holy will continue to bring this crazy, warm, funny and loving family together, and other crazy, lost saints and sinners alike will keep showing up. Our responsibility is to love everyone who does. And I believe, that's how intimate space continues to be intimate space.

Peace and Blessings, Pastor Tim

The Farm Report

Thank You for Your Faithful Generosity! Every gift we have is a gift from God—and we are so grateful for your faithful generosity in giving back a portion of what God has so graciously given us. Your gifts make it possible for Saint Paul's @ The Farm, your faith community, to live out our mission and care for one another and our neighbors. The 2025 Contribution Statements have been emailed to those who requested and hard copies are ready to be picked up at the church starting Friday, January 23, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. As you review your giving statement, we pray it reminds you of the incredible partnership we share in God's work being the church for all God's people.

Is This Thing On? Welcome! Please know that we livestream our services on Facebook and YouTube, and we capture special moments to share across our social media platforms. By joining us in this space, you are part of our shared worship. If you have a special case for legal or safety purposes in which you cannot appear in video, please notify a greeter / usher so that we may make accommodations for you. We are committed to making sure everyone feels safe and honored in this space.

A Room That's Become So Much More. It started as a space for The Travelers on Sunday mornings. But then something magical happened—it became essential to who we are. The Gathering Room (located behind the Sanctuary piano) hosts: The Travelers (Sunday morning Faith Connection Class for ages 9th grade to 99). Monday Morning Reflections, a time to meet with Pastor Tim to take another look at Sunday's scripture and its meaning for our lives in today's world. Wednesday Evening Interactive seasonal book study (shown in the picture). Board and Consistory meetings, staff meetings, lunch meetings and many more gatherings.

We added a fireplace. The light is warm. The walls hold conversation. And so many of you have told us: This room feels sacred. If you haven't been yet—come see what we built together. Whether you're looking for a quiet place to think, a welcoming space to learn, or just a room that feels like it was made for gathering—the Gathering Room is waiting for you. Stop by on a Sunday morning. Join us for Monday Reflections. Wander in and sit by the fireplace. This is what happens when a community decides to build something together. This is what we create when we say yes to each other. We aren't the same when you're not here—and we can't wait to see you in the Gathering Room!

Please join us Sunday, February 22, 2026 as we celebrate all that we got to do in 2025. We will recognize our volunteers and staff as we celebrate our year in review Annual Meeting. The meeting will take place immediately following worship and there will be cake. All are invited. #seeyou@TheFarm

And the Winner Is... (All of You!!!) What a COOKOFF we had this January!!! Eight different chilis. Eight different flavors. Eight different reasons to celebrate our faith family of Saint Paul's coming together around food, fun, and friendly competition. And let us tell you—the voting was CLOSE! We're talking just a few points separating all the contenders. That's the kind of competition we LOVE to see!

But here's what made this year extra special: new faces, new recipes, and a brand-new kind of chili that shook things up! This is what community looks like—people bringing their best, their creativity, and their passion to the table. Literally!

So, without further ado, here are your TOP THREE CHILI CHAMPIONS:

#1: Seafood Chili — Cindy Myers (Yes, you read that right—seafood chili! Bold move from a first-time competitor. We LOVED it!)

#2: Timberline — Jon Hagan (an annual favorite)

#3: Spicy Grande Chili — Deb Frei (another first timer!)

We will honor these three champions this Sunday morning and present them with their well-deserved ribbons! But real talk—every single person who brought a chili, tasted a chili, and voted is a winner in our book. This is what we do at The Farm. We show up. We celebrate each other. We aren't the same when you're not here! Cindy, Jon, Deb—congratulations!!! 🎉
